CULTURAL PERSPECTIVES ON GLOBALISATION AND IRELAND

Eamon Maher (ed.)
Contents

Foreword
FINTAN O’TOOLE
vii

Introduction
EAMON MAHER
1

PART 1: Globalisation and Irish Society

1. Inside Out: Time and Place in Global Ireland
   MICHAEL CRONIN
   11

2. The Global Irish Spirit
   CATHERINE MAIGNANT
   31

3. In at the Death: The French Press and the Celtic Tiger
   GRACE NEVILLE
   53

4. Negotiating the Self: The Spectral Mobile Subject
   EUGENE O’BRIEN
   67

5. Globalisation, Vulnerability and the Return to Religion:
   Reflections from the Irish Experience
   PEADAR KIRBY
   93

6. The Global is Personal
   TOM INGLIS
   113
PART II: Literary Perspectives on Globalisation and Ireland

7. Contemporary Irish Fiction and the Transnational Imaginary
   ANNE FOGARTY
   133

8. ‘Root and Routes’: Home and Away in Friel and Heaney
   ALISON O’MALLEY-YOUNGER AND TOM HERRON
   149

9. Irish Theatre and Globalisation: A Faustian Pact?
   PATRICK LONERGAN
   177

10. ‘Coming of Age’ (and other Fictions of Globalisation) in Three Novels by Seamus Deane, Roddy Doyle and Patrick McCabe
    WILLY MALEY
    191

11. ‘The Universal is the Local without Walls’: John McGahern
    and the Global Project
    EAMON MAHER
    211

Notes on Contributors
   233

Index
   239