Weitere Fachgebiete > Ethnologie, Volkskunde, Soziologie > Volkskunde > Historische & Regionale Volkskunde

Zu Leseprobe

schnell und portofrei erhältlich bei beck-shop.de

Andrea Nicolas

From Process to Procedure

Elders’ Mediation and Formality in Central Ethiopia

2011

Harrassowitz Verlag · Wiesbaden

ISSN 0170-3196
Contents

Acknowledgements ........................................................................................................... ix

Introduction ....................................................................................................................... 1

1 Four Anthropological Discourses .................................................................................. 4
   1.1 Mediation .................................................................................................................. 4
   1.2 Elders ....................................................................................................................... 9
   1.3 Ritual ....................................................................................................................... 14
   1.4 Technique ............................................................................................................... 23

2 Methodology of the Book ............................................................................................... 27
   2.1 The Analysis of Communication ............................................................................. 27
   2.2 From Process to Procedure ..................................................................................... 30
   2.3 Genesis, Change and Exchange ............................................................................. 33
   2.4 Fieldwork and Data Processing ............................................................................. 36

3 The Research Area: Ada’a Liiban in Eastern Šäwa, Ethiopia ........................................ 42
   3.1 Geography, History and Administration .................................................................. 42
   3.2 Ethnic and Religious Setting .................................................................................... 46
   3.3 Social Organisation, Economy and Settlement Patterns ....................................... 49

Part I: The Institution of Eldership ................................................................................... 53
   I.1 Elders as Social Group .............................................................................................. 55
   I.2 Elders as Problem-Solving Institution .................................................................... 59
   I.3 A Shared Complex .................................................................................................... 63

Part II: Procedure in Mediation ....................................................................................... 69
   II.1 The Process ............................................................................................................. 69
      Incidents (69), Cases (69)
   II.1.1 Actors and Parties ............................................................................................... 70
      Actors (70), Parties (70), Group belongings (71), Role-casts (72)
   II.1.2 Mediators and Judges ......................................................................................... 73
      The elders of the land (73), Elders’ siding (73), Speech/contract father (74), Priests as mediators (74), Soul father (75), Elders and priests (76), Traditional judge (77)
Contents

II.1.3 Ideology and the Aim of Mediation ........................................ 79

   Peace (79), Ideology (80), Concept of the evil (80), Value of reconciliation (81), Devine intervenance (82), Reconciliation with spirits (83), Reconciliation with God (83)

II.1.4 Sequences and Phases ........................................................ 84

   Opening (84), Petitioning phase (85), Discussion phase (86),
   Compensation phase (86), Affirmation/reconciliation phase (87),
   Closing (87), Phasing in marriage (88)

II.2 Procedures of Mediation ........................................................ 89

   II.2.1 Categories of Procedures ................................................ 89

      II.2.1.1 Marriage ............................................................... 90

         First day of petitioning (91), Second day of petitioning (93), Further days of petitioning (97), House-entering (99), Petitioning for the 'best man' (105), Wedding day (107), Return feast (115)

      II.2.1.2 Bride-abduction ..................................................... 120

         Abduction (125), First day of petitioning (125), Further days of petitioning (130), Discussion (133), Compensation and fulfilment
         (135), Wedding day/Return feast (137), Procedural variation (137)

      II.2.1.3 Beating and Injury .................................................. 139

         Petitioning (140), Discussion (142), Compensation (149), Reconcile-ment and affirmation (149), Reciprocal invitation (152)

      II.2.1.4 Homicide ............................................................... 152

         Petitioning (154), Discussion: peace talks (162), Compensation
         (166), Reconciliation (167), Affirmation (172), Promising (173),
         Reciprocal invitation (176)

      II.2.2 Formal Implications ..................................................... 177

         Matters of importance (177), Hierarchy of formalisation (178),
         Scales of conflict (179), Problem level and design (180)

   Part III: Ritual and Communication ........................................... 183

      III.1. Religious Legitimation, Symbol and Ritual ....................... 184

         III.1.1 Religious Legitimation ......................................... 184

            Elders (185), Priests (186), 'People of respect' (188)

         III.1.2 Symbols of Social and Religious Power ....................... 189

            III.1.2.1 Clothing as Status Emblem .............................. 189

               Cotton cloth (189), Headgear (190), Brocade vestment (191)

            III.1.2.2 Insignia of Authority .................................... 192

               Umbrella (192), Stick (193), Whisk (194), Whip (194)
III.1.2.3 Symbols of Worldly and Divine Power ......................................... 195
  Holy metal (196), Cowry-shell leather (197), Cross (199)
III.1.3 Ritual Components in Mediation Procedures ............................... 201
III.1.3.1 Formulas in Action ................................................................. 201
  Oath of innocence (201), Vows (203), Blessings (205), Curses
  (206), Prayers (207), Parables (208)
III.1.3.2 Fortune and Success ............................................................. 211
  Omens (212), Fullness (212), Numerical symbolism (213), Ritual calendar (213)
III.1.3.3 Materialised Blessings ......................................................... 216
  Blood (216), Milk (217), Butter (219), Grass (220), Myrrh (222),
  Parfume (223), Honey (223), Beer (225), Liquor (226)
III.1.4 Ritual and Reconciliation ............................................................ 226
  Kissing (226), Holding hands in an animal’s stomach (228), Giving and taking (228), Sputting (230), Anointment (231), Sacrifice (232), Slaughtering (233), Invitation (234), Joint eating (235), Mutual feeding (235)
III.2 Communication in Procedure ......................................................... 237
III.2.1 Principle of Substitution: Avoidance but Contact ........................ 237 Problems in interaction (237), Threat of escalation (238), Avoidance but contact (238), Principle of substitution (239), Filtering of information (239), Facilitated interaction (240)
III.2.2 Meaning of Places ................................................................. 240
  Compound (240), House (242), The gate to the yard (242), Front-door
  (242), Plateau (244), Groove (244), Bank of a river (245), Churchyard
  (246), Temple (246), Tree (247), Location of events (248)
III.2.3 Placing People: Constellations of Power and Affiliation .......... 249
  Together or separated (249), Spatial division into parties (249),
  Inner seating order (251)
III.2.4 Rhetoric and Speech ............................................................... 253
III.2.4.1 Expressions of Superiority ..................................................... 254
  Starting the conversation (254), Accusing (254), Questioning (255),
  Demanding (255)
III.2.4.2 Rhetorics of Guilt ................................................................. 256
  Plea (257), Appellation (258), Gaining compliance (258), Convincing
  (259), Admittance (260), Asking for forgiveness (261), Promising
  (261), Excusing (262), Confirming (263), Agreeing (264)
Contents

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>III.2.4.3 Safe Way of Expressing It: Formulaic Speech and Old Words</td>
<td>264</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Formulaic speech (264), Old words (265), Making one’s point (266)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>III.2.4.4 Help and Warning: Elders’ Advice</td>
<td>268</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Promise of help (269), Admonishing advice (269)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>III.2.5 Body Language</td>
<td>270</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Standing (270), Sitting (271), Taking-off the headgear (272), Laying</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>down the stick (273), Holding the hands with upturned palms (273),</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bowing (274), Kissing and hand-taking (275), Laying on the ground (276)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>III.2.6 Timing, Time-frame and the Right Order</td>
<td>276</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Attrition (277), ‘Healing’ time (277), Withholding agreement (278),</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scheduling rights (278), A time for everything (278), Guarding</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mechanisms: sequencing (279)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>III.3 Efforts and Means</td>
<td>280</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Part IV: The Question of Power</td>
<td>283</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>IV.1 Negotiation and the Application of Judgement</td>
<td>283</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Law to be applied (283), Custom as framework (285), Bargaining (285),</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Discount (286), Guarantor (287)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>IV.2 Other Instances and Institutions</td>
<td>288</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lineage and gadaa assemblies (288), Church (288), Spirit mediums (289), Village tribunal (291), State court (292)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>IV.3 Elders’ Power and its Limits</td>
<td>293</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Means of sanction (294), Limits of religious legitimation (295),</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Communicational strategies (296), Breakdown and resumption (297),</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Power of the institution (297)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Conclusions</td>
<td>299</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bibliography</td>
<td>305</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sources</td>
<td>355</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Participant Observation</td>
<td>355</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Interviews</td>
<td>365</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cases</td>
<td>379</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Informants</td>
<td>389</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Transcription Table</td>
<td>395</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Acknowledgements

The present work is based on fieldwork I conducted in Eastern Šäwa, Central Ethiopia, between 1999 and 2002, over altogether 23 months. My thanks go to the elders of Ada’a Liiban, who have answered my questions with great patience, and permitted me to accompany them on their mediation missions. I similarly wish to thank the people who, in spite of their often difficult or tense situation, tolerated my presence on these occasions, or were ready to talk with me about their case. During many instances, I was able to make video- and tape-recordings, which enormously helped in later analysis. Thanks to all who permitted my doing so.

I am indebted to Getaččäw Chemedad Nadhabasa for his support in my Oromo language preparation for fieldwork. Acknowledgement goes to Dässalänä Käbbädä, Lämma Käbbädä, Ityopaya Rooba and Tädla Asäffa, who assisted me with interviewing, recording events, and finally with transcription of significant recordings. Most are in Oromo language, but some, particularly the priests’ interviews, are in Amharic. The latter were explained and translated to Oromo for me by Tädla Asäffa and Dässalänä Käbbädä. Translation from Oromo into English was my responsibility; Prof. Günther Schlee has commented helpfully on this. Both he and Dr. habil. Thomas Zitelmann provided helpful criticism on this work. Acknowledgement further goes to Fälläqä Soyyum, Fälläqä Zäwde, Garma Abbäbä, Målaku, Fantahun Sumi, ‘Alämnaš Gadisa, ‘Abbay Leellisaa, Beenya Yaamii and all others not named here, who have, at different points in time, contributed to the realisation of this work; I am grateful to Bozunäš Kormee and her family for their hospitality and support. I am further indebted to Jennifer Evans, Jeri Waggoner, Benjamin White and Linda Struck for English proof-reading.

My research was funded at different stages by the Commission for the Promotion of Junior Academics at Freie Universität Berlin; the Berlin-Brandenburg Academy of Sciences; and, particularly during the period of long-term field-research, by the Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology in Halle/Saale, Germany. The Christensen Fund in Palo Alto, USA, provided further financial support. Research permission was granted to me by Addis Ababa University in Ethiopia. I would like to especially thank these institutions which have made the realisation of this study possible. I dedicate this work to the memory of Prof. Georg Elwert who encouraged me to undertake this project but did not live to see its completion.

Berlin, May 2011

Andrea Nicolas

1 The original version of this book was submitted, in 2007, as a Ph.D. thesis at the Department of Ethnology, Freie Universität Berlin, Germany. Further information can be accessed via the website of the Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology, Halle/Saale: http://www.eth.mpg.de/people/nicolas/index.html.