Contents

Mobile communication and the change of everyday life:
a short introduction
Joachim R. Höflich .................................................. 07

Theoretical discourses about mobile media

A discourse around theories on new media
Leopoldina Fortunati ........................................................... 19

Absence to presence: a vision of the communicating human in computer-mediated communications technology research
Richard Harper ................................................................. 41

Mobile communication and the public sphere

Moving and lingering: the mobile phone in public space
Joachim R. Höflich & Georg F. Kircher ........................................ 61

Interaction and individual patterns of mobile communication in public places
Isabel Schlote & Christine Linke .................................................. 97

Social aspects of mobile communication

Mobile media and affectivity: some thoughts about the notion of affective bandwidth
Amparo Lasén ................................................................. 131

Living with mobile phones
Jane Vincent ........................................................................... 155

Fashion and the mobile phone: a study of symbolic meanings of mobile phone for college-age young people across cultures
Satomi Sugiyama ................................................................. 171
Prospective uses and mobile media

Communicative mobility and mobile work: the management of everyday life and communication networks in a mediatized world
Matthias Berg  ........................................................................................................ 193

The iPhone and mobile access to the internet
Rich Ling & Pål Roe Sundsøy  ................................................................. 213

About the authors  .............................................................................................. 227