Johan D. van der Vyver

Implementation of International Law in the United States
TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE

INTRODUCTION
American Foreign Policy: An Overview
I. Isolationism and Exceptionalism
II. The Only Super Power Syndrome
III. A Persecution Complex
IV. Promotion of American Self-Interests
V. A Messianic World Mission
VI. A Sense of Self-Righteousness
VII. Translating Policy into Action
VIII. A New Beginning?
IX. Concluding Observations

CHAPTER ONE
Prosecuting Offences against the Law of Nations in the United States
I. Constitutional Directives
   1. Article VI, Clause [2]
   2. Article I, Section (8), Clause [10]
II. Liability for International Crimes under the Rules of American Law
   1. Common-Law Crimes
   2. Treaty-based Crimes
   3. International Customary-Law Crimes
III. Universal Jurisdiction to Prosecute Offences against the Law of Nations
IV. Offences against the Law of Nations Defined
V. Congressional Definition of Offences against the Law of Nations
VI. Prosecuting Acts of Torture in the United States
VII. Concluding Observations
CHAPTER FIVE
AMERICAN EXCEPTIONALISM AND
THE INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL COURT
I. American Support of an International Criminal Court
II. American Exceptionalism
III. Official American Responses to the Outcome of the Rome Conference
1. Constitutional Concerns
2. State Sovereignty
3. The Vagueness Argument
4. Politicized Investigations and Prosecutions
IV. Practical Measures to Undermine the Functioning of the ICC
1. Unsigning the ICC Statute
2. Hostile Legislation
3. Bilateral Agreements to Undermine ICC Jurisdiction
V. Concluding Observations

CHAPTER SIX
MILITARY INTERVENTIONS
I. Proscription of International Armed Interventions
II. Legality of Armed Responses that Exceed the Charter Provisions
1. Anticipatory Self-Defence
2. Humanitarian Intervention
3. Wars of Liberation
III. Recent Armed Conflicts
1. Kosovo
2. Afghanistan
3. Iraq